

An Invitation

INDIAN ROAD SAFETY - EXPLORING ANSWERS THROUGH COLLABORATION

REDUCING THE ROAD INJURY TOLL IN INDIA – how Australia and India can work together

A high road traffic death rate is seen in many of the low and middle income countries including India and the cost of road traffic injuries in India is estimated to be more than 322 billion rupees (AUD 8.1 billion).

You are invited to join leading scientists from India and Australia at a seminar that will explore road safety issues in both countries. This event will actively discuss ideas to reduce deaths due to road traffic injuries. The seminar will not only reveal the size and impact of the issue but explore solutions and opportunities for collaboration between Australian and Indian researchers for the prevention of these injuries.

The event will be opened by Mr Amit Dasgupta – Consulate General of India, Sydney and is hosted by The George Institute in collaboration with the Indian Council of Medical Research and the University of Sydney. Please see a list of speakers below. The presentations will be followed by a panel discussion.

Date: 30 June 2010

Venue: The George Institute for International Health
Level 7, 341 George Street, Sydney NSW 2000

Time: 1-3 pm

SPEAKERS

Professor G Gururaj – National Institute of Mental Health & Neuro Sciences, India

Professor Mahesh Misra - All India Institute of Medical Sciences

Mr Jo Motha – Department of Infrastructure, Australian Government

Associate Professor Rebecca Ivers – The George Institute, University of Sydney

RSVP to Maria Ali at mali@george.org.au or (02) 9657 0361

This seminar is funded by the Australia-India Council

THE GEORGE INSTITUTE for International Health

THE UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY

AUSTRALIA-INDIA COUNCIL